NCC organized day programme on a world population on July 11th

World Population Day is an annual observance held on July 11th, established by the United Nations to raise awareness about critical global population issues, including their impact on development and the environment, and to highlight the importance of addressing them urgently; it was first marked on July 11, 1990 across many countries. Celebrated every year on July 11th. United Nations Development Programme. Population growth and its impact on society. Family planning and reproductive health access. Gender equality and women's empowerment. Data collection and demographic trends. Origin. The day was established in 1989, following the interest generated by the "Day of Five Billion" observed on July 11, 1987, which marked the world population reaching 5 billion people. What happens on World Population Day: Governments, NGOs, and other organizations hold events to raise awareness about population issues through campaigns, workshops, and public discussions. Media coverage highlights the importance of responsible population management. Focus on promoting access to quality reproductive healthcare services, especially for women and young people.

4th July Alluri Sitarama raju Jayanthi

On 4th July 2025, Government Degree College, Kovvur, proudly organized Alluri Sitarama Raju Jayanthi to commemorate the birth anniversary of the legendary freedom fighter. The event began with floral tributes to Alluri Sitarama Raju's portrait, followed by speeches highlighting his courageous role in the Indian freedom struggle, especially his leadership in the Rampa Rebellion against British rule. Students, faculty, and NSS volunteers actively participated, reflecting on his bravery, patriotism, and sacrifice for the nation.

Various cultural activities were held to mark the occasion, including patriotic songs, skits, and elocution competitions focused on the life and legacy of Alluri Sitarama Raju. The principal of the college addressed the gathering, urging students to draw inspiration from Alluri's fearless spirit and commitment to justice. The event served as a meaningful tribute and strengthened the values of nationalism and social responsibility among the youth.

19th July Ending Plastic Pollution as part of swachandhra Swarnandhra

On 19th July 2025, Government Degree College, Kovvur, organized an awareness programme and workshop on “Ending Plastic Pollution” as part of the Swachandhra Swarnandhra initiative. The event aimed to educate students and the local community about the harmful effects of plastic on the environment and health. Experts and environmental activists addressed the gathering, emphasizing the urgent need to reduce, reuse, and recycle plastic to protect natural ecosystems. The workshop included interactive sessions, demonstrations on sustainable alternatives to plastic, and student-led presentations.
